

SUMMARY

Dyah Ayu Setyorini, Criminal Law, Faculty of Law, Brawijaya University, November 2016, The criminological Review of Homosexual Murder, Dr. Prija Djatmika, SH, MS., Faizin Sulisty, SH., LLM.

In this undergraduate thesis, the writer concerns on the murder criminal acts by a homosexual. The background of this theme is that the writer want to know not only the fact of the murder but also what cause the murder. The purpose of this thesis is to describe, analyze and find the techniques of murder against same sex couples and what are the factors behind this crime.

Based on the above problems, the writer can formulate the problem, namely: 1) How was the murder happened? 2) what cause the murder?

In this writing, the writer use criminological juridical approach. Collecting data techniques using interviews and literature study. Then, the techniques of data analysis using descriptive analysis.

From this research the writer can conclude the problems, namely: 1) the killer go to his couple house, covering his head with a jacket and then use a kitchen knife to kill victim. 2) the background of the murder against the victim are jealous, being forced and financial factors.

The conclusions of the above problems is that the victim was killed using a kitchen knife, and the cause of the killing are jealous, being forced and economic factors.

