

SUMMARY

Muvida Kartiksari, Department of Urban and Regional Planning, Faculty of Engineering, Brawijaya University, July 2018, the connection between characteristics and participation of society in heritage conservation, case study : religious area of Sunan ampel surabaya, supervisor: Chairul Maulidi, ST., MT. dan Eddi Basuki Kurniawan, ST., MT.

The city of Surabaya is a city that has a lot of Heritage, one of which is the Religious Regions Sunan Ampel Surabaya. Region ampel was a gathering place for Muslim community in east java, until came Arab society which aims to trade until settled in Ampel area. Against this background, the Ampel Region has a lot of history in the form of buildings, specialties, arts, and traditions.

The participation of the community is important to preserve the heritage, as stated by Hadiwinoto (2002: 3) that conservation must be fought by the wider community, by working together by implementing the government program, based on Sumodingrat (1988) the prerequisite that must be in the process of sustainable development is to include all members of the community or the people in every stage of art development, and tradition.

In the ampel region found some cultural heritage buildings that have changed shape, and decreased public awareness to perform social activities. The purpose of this research is to know the heritage of the area, to know the form of community participation in heritage conservation, and to know the related factors between the form of community participation and the characteristics of the community.

The method used is descriptive analysis, after conducting frequency distribution analysis, then continued with correlation analysis to know the relation, until it is known that the form of participation in accordance with the characteristics of society in each object.

The research found there are two types of inheritance in the Sunan Ampel area of Surabaya, physical and bodily inheritance, known form of participation in every object of physical and bodily inheritance, there are eight of the nine inheritance have a shaped relation with the characteristics of society, and it is known that the community is more active to participate in the inheritance of the physical bodily inheritance

Keywords: Community-Participation, Heritage-Areas, Heritage-Preservation.